++ Valid for broadcast between 0600 and 1800

Headline:
A wet outlook, turning wintry at times.

Today:
A cloudy and icy start in the morning before a band of rain arrives from the west, turning wintry over any high ground, giving a wet day. Feeling cold, especially where any snow lies. Maximum temperature 5 deg C (41 deg F).

Tonight:
Into the evening any remaining rain and hill snow slowly clears eastwards. Some wintry hill showers persist, but conditions generally become dry for most. Minimum temperature 0 deg C (32 deg F).

Wednesday:
Any remaining showers clear turning the day dry but cloudy, although some northern parts may briefly see some brighter spells. Rain then arrives from the southwest during the night. Maximum temperature 9 deg C (48 deg F).

Outlook for Thursday to Saturday:
Rainfall turns wintry into the morning, giving snowfall - potentially heavy over any hills. Drier into Friday, though some showers continue, staying wintry over hills. Dry, bright and cold Saturday.
